Year 3 Newsletter – Friday 12th November 2021

This week, pupils have enjoyed taking part in this week's Times Tables Rock Stars competition 'England Rocks'. Pupils have accumulated points throughout the week for their respective classes. Please encourage your child to be practising at home to boost their recall speed and accuracy.

Home reading: Thank you to all parents and carers who are logging their child's home reading via Go Read. Please speak to your child's class teacher if you need support with this. Reading books will continue to be changed every Monday.

Google Classroom: Please continue to use the Google Classroom page as usual for any key information and to view any learning shared. Your child has their own log in details.

Homework and Spellings: On Monday, the children will be tested on words with the 'i' sound made by the letter 'y'. They will be tested on a selection of these spellings that they have learnt across the week. There will be 10 in total. Their home learning and spelling task has been sent out with the children.

Maths:

In maths, the children have continued to practise learning subtraction strategies. We have worked on subtracting with exchanging using visuals to help the children understand what happens when exchanging. A link has been posted on the Google Classroom to help your child's understanding.

Homework: Children have all received a piece of handwriting and maths or reading homework. Please encourage your child to focus on sitting their letters on the line, use equal finger spaces and have consistent letter sizes.

English: In English, the children have continued to write their newspaper report based on the book 'Pugs of the Frozen North' by Philip Reeve and Sarah McIntyre. The children have continued to use the taught features of a newspaper report and they have loved reading the book.

Children in Need & Anti-bullying Week

On Monday, children may wear odd socks or clothing to celebrate Anti-bullying week. They may also bake and bring in buns for a Children in Need bake sale on Friday. Buns will be sold at 50p each.

Have a great weekend. The Year 3 Team.
